Court of the United States. The ground upon which the possible move to remove from out of the jurisdiction of the State courts will be made is, that Baber is deprived of his liberty without due course of law for the reason, first, that Juror Reed, who declared on his yoldire that he held decided opinions, was in no sense a competent riporty recond, that the Sheiff had no right to deprive Baker of his pentalons for the purpose of having them inspected for bloodstains, thus making him a witness against himself; and third, that the indictment charging Baker with murder of the first degree under the statutes of West Virginia, being of the stoutes of West Virginia, being of the stoute of West Virginia, being of the stoute of West Virginia, being of the trouble all along in the minds of the Pittsburgh coal operators has been, that the indictment charging Baker with murder of the first degree under the statutes of West Virginia, being of the structs of West Virginia, being of the statutes of West Virginia, being of the structs of the state that the sentire channel span was to be closed. This is not the case: At present the line of the State Court for want of jurisdiction. At any rate the world interiere with the judgment of the State Court for want of jurisdiction. At any rate the world interiere with the finding of the motion, and Baker will accordingly commence the serving out of his sentence in the Moundsville penitentiary. The time has now arrived for the court officers and lawyers to look for their costs and fees. Where they will get them is now an unknown source. The Sheriff and Clerk of Brooke county, where the last trial was held, applied to the Legislature last winter and got a bill passed reimbursing them for their services, as the statutes expressly stipulate that no judgment of costs may be rendered sgainst the State.

ABOUT TEOPLE.

ABOUT TEOPLE.

The Opera House was filled yesterday afternoon despite the very disagreeable weather, and again last night, with audiences that laughed till their sides ached over the performance of "My Aunt Bridget" as impersonated by George W. tures with which the piece abounds. The engagement which closed last night has been a great success and the popularity of Monroe and Rice here has been increased. They can always count on good houses here in the future.

The Leonze Bros. closed a half weeks' engagement at the Grand last night. They drew two fair houses.

The St. Felix Sisters, talented artists, whose ability has been generally acknowledged wherever they have appeared, supported by a first-class company, will commence a three nights engagement at the Grand to-night, presenting their own musical comedy "A Royal Hand." Seats can be reserved at Wier's. The indications are that there will be large audiences at each performance.

The sale of reserved seats for the "Little Lord Fauntleroy" engagement at the Opera House, Friday and Saturday evenings and Saturday afternoon, will commence at. House's music store this morning. This dramatization of Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett's famous atory has given the publica play that appeals to human nature and which goes straight to the heart through any amount of thickness by its own intrinsic beauty. It is a pure and healthy play, good for the cause of the drama and good for the people who witness it. or the people who witness it.

THE RIVER RISING.

Thirteen Feet in the Channel Last Night Notes About the Stonmers, The rains of the past three or four ays have been quite general up the valey and yesterday inquiries were numer ous as to the amount of water that might be looked for in the Qhio. The levee gauge at f o'clock last night showed a lepth in the channel of 13 feet and the iver was rising stendily. Pittsburgh re-ported 10 feet in the channel and the ported to see in the change and the river was rislog, having risen 16 inches in the preceding twenty-four hours. It is probable that there will be about 20 feet here and possibly the rise may go a foot or two over that mark.
